

STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Partner With A National Movement Transforming
The Future Of Heart Health In America

America's Heart Health Revolution

February 20, 2027

is more than a summit.

It represents the continued evolution of a physician-led public health movement committed to fundamentally changing how cardiovascular disease prevention is understood, prioritized, and delivered in modern healthcare.

At a time when chronic disease continues to rise globally, we believe the future of medicine must move beyond reactive treatment and toward prevention-centered care.

For the past three years, the Global Foundation for Preventive Cardiology, a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing cardiovascular prevention and public health education, has consistently led physician-driven educational initiatives focused on empowering individuals to take control of their health before disease develops.

This work has already created meaningful community impact and established a strong foundation for growth.

Together We Are Building
The Future Of Prevention.

Creating A Future Where Prevention Becomes Standard Care.

Cocardio[®]

OUR GROWING IMPACT

Over the last three years, our organization has built a proven track record of community engagement and prevention-focused healthcare education.

Proven Commitment To Mission

Three consecutive years of personally self-funded nonprofit public health initiatives reflecting unwavering long-term commitment to healthcare transformation.

Trusted Community Presence

A rapidly growing ecosystem of physicians, wellness leaders, healthcare professionals, and prevention-focused organizations supporting our mission.

The Next Stage Of Growth

America's Heart Health Revolution 2026 represents the expansion of this work into a larger national movement focused on making prevention the future standard of care. We are now inviting a select group of mission-aligned organizations to help accelerate this movement.
